

ABSTRACT

Zafira Rachmawati, Slang in Central Intelligence Movie by Rawson Marshall Thurber.
A Scientific Writing. English Department. Faculty of Letters and Cultures. Gunadarma
University. Jakarta. 2022.

Abstract

Slang is generally considered as informal style of speech which is used by groups of people in particular community. This research design entitled “Slang in the movie Central Intelligence by Rawson Marshall Thurber”. In this research, the researcher used the descriptive qualitative method. First, the researcher classify the data. Second, the researcher analyze the data in accordance with Bloomfield’s theory about The Shortened Forms with 5 data and An Interjection with 4 data, Patridge’s theory about Community Slang with 19 data and Home Slang with 4 data, and Guth’s theory about Figurative Expression Form with 2 data and The form of A nickname with 3 data. Last, Describe the conclusion as the result of the study. The result of this study, the researcher found with total 37 data, which are divided into six types of slang.

Key words : slang, movie central intelligence, bloomfield, patridge, guth.